

THE DIFFERENT CULTURE

Michele Bernardini

Università di Napoli l'Orientale

TRAIin TRAINING

Transfer Radicalisation approaches in Training

Opening Conference

30th and 31st January 2018

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI NAPOLI
"L'Orientale"

A DEEP TRADITION AND NEW APPROACHES

The Università di Napoli “l’Orientale” was founded in 1732

The Islamic world represents one of our main fields of research.

A large part of our programmes is dedicated to the teaching of languages

Arabic	Berber
Turkish	Hausa
Persian	Swahili
Urdu	Indonesian

These teachings are supported by other teachings:

Islamic Studies, Islamic Archeology, Semitic Studies, Gender studies in Islamic World, Islamic sociology,

History of the Islamic World, History of Africa, Islamic Law

THE WORK STREAM 2

THE SYLLABUS,

According with the work of the team of the University of Padova (Work Stream 1), we intend to promote the publication of a volume of 100 pages max (the Syllabus) deadline September 2018.

The Syllabus will be the result of various experiences:

- 1) Padova University experience on the field, and sociologic approach
- 2) Napoli, Orientale University, Linguistic, historical and Religious knowledge
- 3) Magistrature, Judiciary experience.

HYPOTESIS OF SYLLABUS (THE CONTRIBUTION OF THE ORIENTALE OF NAPLES)

Part 1

- A) General overview of the Islamic World (ethnic composition, religious differences, statistics, languages)
- B) The Quran (structure, function and use, interpretation)
- C) The Umma (The Muslim community, functions and roles)
- C) The Jihad (short history, meaning and doctrine)
- D) The Perception of Diversity (the West from the Muslim point of view)
- E) Islam and Internet (Web sites, blogs etc.)
- F) Family relationships (Hierarchical status, the role of the women, tribal connections)
- G) A linguistic vademecum (Words and expressions of radicalization).

OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS

The Syllabus will be built with the cooperation of the University of Padova. For this aim we are interested to schedule a working meeting in the month of March 2018.

with the contribution of the Department of Prison Service (NIC). For this aim we are interested to schedule a working meeting in the month of April 2018.

A further meeting will be with the RASMORAD research operators in May 2018.

The final Deadline for the publication (by the University Press of Naples) will be September 2018